President's Chapter Message
Kimberly Tassen,
SR/WA, R/W-NAC

It's been a great 2012 so far for Chapter 7. We have offered several educational courses, with many of our members working toward or obtaining their SR/WA designation, or other specialized certifications. Our membership meetings have been informative and educational, thanks to careful planning and to our colleagues volunteering their time and knowledge to our membership. We have the Region Forum in April in Indiana and shortly thereafter, we have the May membership meeting at DTE Energy, and the Installation of Officers Banquet at Weber's Inn. I encourage you to attend as many of the events that you are able to. Your leadership is preparing to attend the IRWA annual educational conference in Seattle, Washington in June. Please take advantage of this educational opportunity and utilize the resources on the IRWA website to convince your boss of the benefits of attending this conference. Just in time for fall colors, we will be holding our Fall Seminar at Shanty Creek in September. Start planning now to attend this educational event. This term, we have had a very intense membership campaign to retain and gain membership. Our current Membership Chair, Margaret Steketee, has been working diligently to audit and track our chapter membership. She has done an outstanding job with the help of others, including LR Cole. We will continue to have an aggressive membership drive facilitated by the IRWA headquarters, in conjunction with our dedicated chapter Marketing Committee. Thanks again to all of our members and officers who are passionate about their profession and have consistently volunteered their precious time, knowledge and efforts to this chapter.

Ron A. May – Senior Vice President, DTE Energy

Topic: State of the Company

DTE Energy, is a Detroit-based diversified energy company involved in the development and management of energy-related businesses and services nationwide. Ron is responsible for major generation construction and environmental projects at Detroit Edison's power plants, the new nuclear power plant development project, development of renewable and metering assets, along with strategic facilities and service projects. Detroit Edison is one of three major business units of DTE Energy. Ron previously served as Senior Vice President of DTE2, an enterprise resource planning project. Prior to that, he served as Senior Vice President of Energy Distribution at Detroit Edison, responsible for engineering, operation, construction and maintenance of the company's distribution and transmission system. Additional responsibilities included customer service, corporate facilities, and security. He also held a variety of nuclear leadership positions at Detroit Edison, including positions in materials management, maintenance, and administration. Prior to joining Detroit Edison, Ron was Vice President at Project Management Associates, a project controls consulting business. Earlier in his career, he held leadership positions at Townsend and Bottum, Inc., a heavy utility construction business, including environmental equipment additions to Detroit Edison's fossil generation fleet. Ron earned a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering at the University of Michigan, and has completed the Advanced Management Program at Harvard University. Additionally, he completed graduate course work at Eastern Michigan University, Youngstown State University, and Pennsylvania State University. Currently, he is a member of the American Association of Cost Engineers, American Society of Civil Engineers, American Nuclear Society and the Engineering Society of Detroit. Ron is also a certified Lean Six Sigma Black Belt and holds a Michigan real estate license.

Presently, Ron serves as the chairman of the Oakland University School of Engineering and Computer Science Advisory Council and the chairman of the Michigan Roundtable for Diversity and Inclusion, while serving on the board of directors of numerous educational and civic organizations, including University of Michigan Engineering Advisory Council, Arab Community Center for Economic and Social Services, Think Detroit PAL and the United Way 2-1-1. Formerly, he was a board member of the Warren Conner Development Coalition, Crossroads for Youth, the campaign for the United Negro College Fund and Leadership Oakland. Ron received the Diversity Champion awards from the Birmingham-Bloomfield Diversity Task Force and the Detroit Chapter of the Association of Asian Pacific Americans, the Distinguished Leader Award from Leadership Oakland and the Honorary Alumni Award from Oakland University.

Matthew J. Wagner - Manager of Wind Development, DTE Energy

Topic: Wind Power

Matt manages various aspects of wind development for DTE Energy, including obtaining land easements, collection of wind resource information, and conduct of environmental studies including wildlife and wetland assessments. Matt is also involved in various aspects of communications and community relations related to wind development at DTE. Previously, Matt worked in DTE's environmental management department where he managed environmental personnel responsible for the company's environmental compliance. Prior to joining DTE Energy, Matt worked as an environmental consultant for Delta Environmental Consultants in Farmington Hills, Michigan, and ENCOTEC, Inc. an Ann Arbor, Michigan based company. Matt began his career at the United States Environmental Protection Agency's Automotive Emissions and Fuel Economy Lab, also in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Matt earned a Bachelor of Science degree in environmental engineering from Pennsylvania State University in 1984, and a Master of Science degree in environmental engineering from the University of Michigan in 1991. Matt is also a professional engineer, licensed to practice in Michigan.

Gerard J. Labut - Manager of SmartCurrents[sm] Program Strategy and Standards, DTE Energy Topic: SmartCurrents[sm]

Gerry has held a series of increasingly responsible assignments over a 33 year career as manager of planning, design, engineering, budgeting, construction, and operations for DTE's electrical system and its annual capital improvement program. Gerry is a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit, a Senior Member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, and holds a Bachelor's Degree in Electrical Engineering and a Master's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Detroit. He has also received DTE's Walter McCarthy Award for community service, Sarah Sheridan Award for customer service, and Alex Dow Award for technical innovation.

Jennifer Cichowlas - Supervising Engineer - Power Systems Technology, DTE Energy Topic: Solar Power

Jennifer is an Electrical Engineering graduate from Wayne State University in Detroit. Jennifer has been with DTE Energy for 13 years and started as a co-op student during her time attending WSU, in the Northwest Planning and Design Region. She was hired as a full-time engineer upon graduation in 2002 where she continued her career in the same group gaining valuable experience about planning the electrical system. Throughout her career at Detroit Edison, she has worked in various groups and roles; such as learning about rates and the impacts of electric choice with our marketing organization, understanding and working with our fleet operations, additional time in a leadership position in the regional planning group, then became a resource analyst where she created short and long term schedules between the design and field organizations. Jennifer is currently in the power systems technology group, where she is the Supervising Engineer with her main project overseeing the interconnection of the utility solar projects with our grid and learning how solar PV operates.

Gary Tremberth – Supervisor of System Operation Center (SOC), DTE Energy Topic: Guided Tour of DTE Energy Control Room

Gary started with Detroit Edison in 1977 and has served in varying roles during his career. Gary possesses over 22 years of substation field experience in operations and maintenance and 12 years Electrical system operation. Gary earned his Associate Degree in Electrical technology from Macomb College and obtained Journeyman Substation Operator status from the US Department of Labor. Gary is also a NERC Certified Transmission Operator and NERC Certified Reliability Coordinator.

Shaun Summerville, Marketing Program Manager, DTE Energy
Topic: Guided Tour of DTE Smart Home

Shaun Summerville is currently a Marketing Program Manger in Retail Marketing at Detroit Edison. In this position, she is responsible for developing new products and services delivered through AMI that will be offered to Detroit Edison's customers. She has 5 years experience at DTE in several departments including Gas Operations as well as Corporate Finance. Prior to joining DTE, she worked for 7 years in the automotive industry in product development and vehicle operations and 3 years in the pharmaceutical industry in both production operations and product pricing. Shaun has an MBA from Columbia University and a BS in Industrial and Operations Engineering from the University of Michigan.

DTE Energy and Chapter 7

Photos provided by DTE Energy

Detroit Edison's Richard H. Taylor was credited for being primarily responsible for starting the Michigan Chapter 7 in 1953. The January 1954 edition of Synchroscope (Detroit Edison communication newsletter) reported that Dick Taylor reported to VP Edward T. Gusbee, when he championed the creation of Chapter 7, which became the only American Right of Way Association Chapter east of the Mississippi. Once Canada began creating chapters, the American Right of Way Association became the International Right of Way Association (IRWA). Today there are 25 Chapters of IRWA east of the Mississippi.

Frank Balfour, from the California Transportation Department, was recruiting professionals in the United States, in 1953, to form the American Right of Way Association. One person became especially engaged with Frank and that was Richard (Dick) H. Taylor, Director, Detroit Edison Right of Way Department. Dick and Frank both traveled together to promote the American Right of Way Association. Dick became the main organizer and first Michigan Chapter 7 President in 1954. Frank became the 1st President of the American Right of Way Association and then Dick Taylor became the 2nd American Right of Way Association President from1957 to1958. At some point when Dick reported to Detroit Edison Vice President Chet Ogden, starting in 1964, Chet and Dick combined both the Right of Way and Real Estate Departments into a single department, the Real Estate and Right of Department, with Dick Taylor as its Director.

Detroit Edison's Robert W. Tewksbury was Chapter 7 President in 1974 and Detroit Edison's Thomas H. Beagan was Chapter 7 President in 1975.
